A MINISTER ASSAULTED.

Rev. H. G. Henderson Taken to Task by Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., for Language Used in the Pulpit.

On Monday Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., approached Rev. H. G. Henderson, of the Methodist Church, on St. Clair street, in front of a large furniture store, and as related by Mr. Henderson said substantially:

"The capital states you said in the pulpit yesterday that any man who votes for Mr. Breckinridge is committing a wrong and knows that he has his conscience when he thus indorses him. Have you no apology or make for that broad charge, knowing that I intend to vote for him?"

Mr. Henderson replied that he had none, when Mr. Taylor said: "You are a liar and scoundrel."

Mr. Henderson rejoined, "That is only your opinion, and I might add the same o' you."

With this, Mr. Taylor appeared to draw back as if to strike the minister, but refrained and said, "No, you are to small and insignificant for a gentleman to notice."

Of course, the day being County Court day, when the city was filled with more people than had been here on a similar occasion for some months, it is easy to imagine the effect of such an assault on a minister of the gospel and the endless gossip created by it. Ministers of other denominations were aroused over the occurrence, and one had the courage to tell Mr. Taylor that it was no evidence of bravery to attack a man whose conscience and calling bind him hand and foot.

Mr. Taylor, on Tuesday, in speaking of the matter, said:

"The result of the assault in the daily paper is that another on the part of Mr. Taylor's supporters is used to discredit him."

Notes of the Mills Meeting.

Do the Christian people fully realize the importance of the coming Mills Meetings? If they do they will be continually invoking the blessing of God to turn the hearts of the people to it. We have our churches and God's ministers working all the time, laboring for souls, but the minds of the people are so immersed in worldly affairs, politics and the like that it takes extraordinary means to awaken them to the greatest of all work, namely, saving of souls.

The choir for the meeting, under the direction of Prof. Wayland Graham, have had two very encouraging rehearsals at the Baptist Church. If the men singers will only turn out like the ladies do, this will be the finest chorus ever heard in Frankfort. The effect of the singing of a mighty chorus in a great revival meeting is truly soul-stirring. There is much work yet for this chorus to do, but we believe that Prof. Graham, with his accustomed energy, will bring it up to Mr. Mills' highest expectations.

The prospect for a successful beginning on the 25th of this month, in the big tent to be erected upon Major Tarlton's vacant lot, is very promising indeed. The Finance Committee have raised nearly half of the required amount and if the remainder of the citizens to be called upon respond with the liberality of those already subscribing, there will be no trouble about finances. The committee will go around from day to day until they complete their work.

Communicated.

To the tobacco men of the Ashland District:

FELLOW CITIZENS—We are now engaged in an important political campaign, and one in which we tenant farmers and laborers in tobacco are to play an important part. A certain class of office bought politicians have presumed upon our ignorance to an extent that led them to suppose they could count upon us in any event.

For their own selfish purposes they have presented to us a candidate who, by his own confession, is a base hypocrite, a perfumed bar and a vile libertine; who has been proven a dishonest embezzler of other people's money. And then one of their chosen leaders, following in the lewd and filthy footsteps of his chief, proposes to "breed the maidens of the Blue Grass, especially the daughters of the tobacco men, to their candidate." For what? That they might have the honor, and their children more sense. Here is another presumption upon our ignorance. Now, tobacco men, I talk to you as one of you, and I ask you, in God's name, are you going to resent this base insult to ourselves, our mothers, our wives and our daughters, or are you indeed the poor ignorant brutes they have assumed you to be?

Will you endorse a candidacy the legitimate outgrowth of which is lewdness and shame, and allow the leaders of that candidacy to proclaim your wives and daughters the victims of their lewd passions and shameful conduct? No, my countrymen, we are not classical scholars, we know but little about Latin and Greek or the occult sciences, but God has given us common horse sense, and we know it is wrong to support a jackass for Congress. Let me appeal to you in the name of your own honor, in the name of the purity of your wives and daughters, in the name of the God of our fathers, to leave the ranks of these vile insulters of womanly virtue and manly pride; join with the wealth and purity and honesty and intelligence of this district and blot this infamous memory from our history. I know some of you have honestly drifted into the Breckinridge camp, and it was natural, but you have no further excuse. You know now the true and would-be practice of Col-

B. and his leaders, and you cannot escape the responsibility resting upon you. Vote for the Colonel and you indirectly endorse the sentiment of Col. Leev; vote for him and you insult the mothers who gave you birth, the wives you have sworn to protect, and the daughters you should rear in the paths of virtue. There are good men for Col. Breckinridge and the Colonel has many followers; but deduct from the list all the hypocrites, liars, libertines, tramps, vagabonds and office holders, and the good men are so few. My brethren come out from this horde of pests, and show the world that you are men worthy of the name; that you will defend you loved ones at the ballot box or on the field of battle; that you scorn the accused villain who gave utterance to that vile insult, and that you will rise in your might and crush him, his leader and his party. If you do not, then you are the ignorant brutes they have branded you. Then indeed they have judged you aright, and you are unworthy of the noble wives and daughters with which heaven has blessed you. On the 15th of this month you will record your standing. Shall it be for virtue or vice, for right or wrong, for pride or shame? May Heaven guide you aright. Truly yours,

BULLDOGS,
A Tobacco Man.

How to Become Fleathy.

Dr. Miles Nervine not only cures all nervous diseases, headache, blues, neuralgia, prostration, sleeplessness, rheumatism, St. Vitus' dance, fits and hysteria, but also cures the "flea"! I am pleased to say that after years of intense suffering with nervous disease, headache and prostration, I tried Dr. Miles' Balsomic Nervine, and in two weeks gained a hundred in weight. I could not lie down to sleep, but now sleep perfectly easy, and am still improving wonderfully. You will not mind trying the Nervine. Miss B. M. Land, Durand, N. Y. "One customer used Nervine and gained fifteen pounds in flesh, says Brown & Mawbury, Cortland, N. Y. "Trial bottles and elegant book free at J. W. Taylor's."

Kentucky Sunday-School Convention.

The twenty-ninth Annual Convention of the Kentucky Sunday-School Union was held at Russellville on August 28th to 30th. Nearly four hundred delegates representing the various sections of the State were present. The leading denominations contributed to the makeup of the Convention. No more bountiful hospitality could have been dispensed than that which was received from the hands of the beautiful little "Knob City." A convention is seldom held that awakens a wider local interest than did this. The attendance upon all of its sessions fully taxed the capacity of the spacious Methodist Church, the place of meeting. The program was one of the best ever presented to a convention in the State. It provided for the fullest consideration of the great phases of modern Sunday-School work. Among those who placed files on the program were Mr. Wm. Reynolds of Peoria, Ill.; Miss Mabel Hall of Chicago, the famous primary teacher; Rev. J. K. Deering of Versailles; Rev. C.

The discussions were marked by highly practical aims and were for the most part rich in suggestion. The singing under the direction of Mr. H. W. Dohrmann of Louisville, was greatly enjoyed.

The report of the Executive Committee showed good progress in all departments of the work during the past year. In the face of the "hard times" an excellent financial showing was made. There has been great advancement in the actual work of the schools of the State. There is large employment of the most approved methods. The new era in primary work is just beginning. Better preparation for teachers is being secured through a large use of the normal course of study. Judge John State, of Louisville, was the President of the Convention.

It is proposed to make the 30th annual convention, which will be held next year at some point in the central part of the State, a memorable occasion.

The Land of Promise is the mighty West, the land that "brought a harvest"; the El Dorado of the world; the land of opportunity. With it here, with all its elements of beauty and prosperity, some of the fathers and most fruitful portions of it bear its fruitfulness in its fullness, though unbroken by a medium life. No seeking or dwelling in a material land is safe from the source of all evil. The West is the land of promise. Bear this in mind. Commercial travelers sojourning in midwest regions should carry a box of the Biters in the traditional grip sack. Against the effects of exposure, mental or bodily fatigue, it is an infallible defense. Constituting rheumatism, gout, rheumatism, dyspepsia, nervousness and insomnia, strength is all remedied by this general restorative.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class mailable matter.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, SEPTEMBER 8, 1894.

Our Editor's Mistake.

The editor of the ROUNDABOUT has been away from home this week, and consequently has been spared the painful necessity of reading the strictures of a local afternoon paper upon his conduct in permitting the insertion, in our last issue, of the correspondence of "Bullidofus," in which that gentleman pays his respects to Breckinridge and Leer. None the less, however, has the burden of our contemporaries' displeasure been felt in the office. From the sub-editor to the carriers and from the foreman to the devil; from the largest font of wood type to the smallest letter of nonpareil; from the chase to the shooting-stick and from the mallet to the plane; from the cylinder to the proof press and from Weston's Ledger to No. 2. News—everything and everybody connected with us is bowed down with grief and shame.

In the great plague of London, in 1665, the house in which the dread disease made its appearance was "marked with a prayer"; and, feeling that the occasion when we have, directly or indirectly, given a supporter of Breckinridge, a chance to accuse us of indecency, is scarcely less of a calamity to us than the plague itself was to London, we engrave the mark on the tablet of our memory and use the words of that prayer:

"GOD HAVE MERCY UPON US."

Quarantine Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a dreadful disease and one that has brought sorrow to nearly every household in which it has entered. It is for this reason that the greatest care and precaution should be taken to prevent any further spread of it in this city. No parents would willingly suffer their children, if afflicted with the disease, to come in contact with other children, whose death, should the malady be contracted and prove fatal, they would have resting as a weight on their conscience; but they should be equally cautious and careful about allowing other members of their household to mingle freely with children and especially about sending a child to school whose throat may be sore and show premonitory symptoms of the disease. Let the Board of Health see to it that the four cases in Bellepoint and two on the South Side are confined wholly to the unfortunate homes in which they are now progressing.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Something About the Docket for the Court to Begin on Next Monday.

The Circuit Court of this county will begin its September term Monday. The docket is unusually large, there being more than 550 cases in all to be disposed of, but a good part of these are old and continued cases which will probably be hastily passed over to the next term, while another portion of the later cases will necessarily be continued for want of preparation to go into trial. The equity docket shows 154 continued cases and 88 new cases. The ordinary docket contains 76 indictments, 34 continued cases and 154 new cases. The fiscal docket, or Commonwealth cases for revenue, number 50. Among the indictments are 45 against those who gave away whisky on the last city election day. The cases of the city against the Deposit, State National and Frankfort National Banks for city taxes, levied under the new charter and tax ordinance, and the case of A. K. Lair, of Scott county, a stockholder, against the Kentucky Midland Railroad, transferred from Scott county and having an answer and cross petition filed by the Home Construction Company, are of most public interest. The cases of Ben. Jackson and Wm. Hollis, for alleged damages sustained in being thrown from a buggy by the Capital Railway Co., and also the cases against the same company by Lewis Peeler, James Dean, Robt. Berry, Frank Rossen and John Hollis for alleged injury to their property on the Leestownturnpike road, along which the street railway runs, are among other private cases for trial this term. The grand jury in session next week will probably take up the lynching of Marshall Boston and may remain long enough to consider offenses, if any, of bribery, perjury or other violations of the primary and election law. Judge Cantrell's courage in dealing with such offenders is unquestioned, and the people have every confidence in his integrity and sense of responsibility in the discharge of his duty to enforce the law.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, SEPTEMBER 8, 1894.
AN OUTBREAK FRUSTRATED.

The Hatfield-McCoy Gang Plot to Escape From the Penitentiary by Murdering Guards.

A horrible plot by convicts in the penitentiary here to kill the guards and make their escape was brought to light Sunday. A prisoner accidentally overheard Wick, Tallant, Will, Hockenheimer, Geo. West, McCoy and Cook, of the notorious Hatfield-McCoy gang, from Pike county, and Jason Little, another well-known character from Breathitt county, all life men, talking of a conspiracy to kill guards Tanner and Ireland in the shops, just as the bell would ring for supper and when all the prisoners and yard guards would be moving towards the supper hall. It was their intention then to take the firearms from these guards and kill the guard on the wall at the gate between the male and female yards and scale the gate and wall to the vacant lot on the outside. The plot was to have been consummated this week. Acting upon this information Warden George placed the conspirators in separate cells and handcuffed them standing to the cell doors, to make them reveal the entire plot and all concerned in it. Supposing all the others had turned traitor and betrayed the scheme, each made a full confession within few hours, excepting Tallant who bore up in this painful posture for thirty hours, before he too weakened and disclosed the hiding place of four large, murderous-looking knives, made from files ground to a keen edge and point. It was indeed a commendable act on the part of the prisoner who revealed the plot, and to prevent him from suffering any injury at the hands of the desperate ringleaders, it would be the proper thing for the Governor to restore him to his liberty.

FRANKFORT BAND.

Its Re-organization and Call for New Uniforms and New Music.

Music is one of the most refining and humanizing arts known and no city of any pretentious proportions whatever should be without a band of musicians. The need of a good band is especially desirable in the Capital City where entertainments are given in honor of the Legislature and numerous visitors from all parts of the State. It requires a great deal of practice to perfect a musician in his art and this practice cannot be had in a small city without the loss of time from business from which the musician's livelihood is derived. As an encouragement, however, to the Frankfort brass band which has been re-organized under the leadership of Prof. John Reis and which is now negotiating with Prof. Wolf, of Cincinnati, to take charge of the orchestra, the citizens should respond to the call of the band for a monthly contribution of twenty-five cents for the purchase of new uniforms, new music and other necessary articles of equipment. In return for this recognition of their commendable efforts the band will place such contributors on the roll of honorary membership and furnish the citizens a free concert or hop once a month. Give aid to the home band and when you need music for the many occasions always arising you will not be obliged to send for a band from another city and pay the extra expense of transportation and board.

CRUTCHER & STARKS!

Frankfort, Kentucky.

To the Voters of Franklin County.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 1894.
Yielding to the flattering and earnest solicitation of partial friends and representative citizens of all political faiths, I have, contrary to my purpose to never again stand for office, determined to make the race for County Judge at the November election, 1894. This is the most important office in the county government. In the hands of the County Judge are placed the liberties of the citizens in criminal trials before examining court, as also the moneyed interests of a large class of debtors and creditors, litigating matters of account in the quarterly court, besides the settlement and oversight of the estates of widows and orphans.

The taxing interests of the citizens is in the hands of the County Judge and the Magistrates.

So it will be seen that your County Judge yields a large influence in county affairs. No more taxes should be laid than are absolutely necessary to meet the bonded indebtedness at its maturity and the annual accruing interest thereon, together with the necessary amount to conduct the county government upon economic, honest business principles. A part of the bonded debt should be met by the next generation, as they are to be equally benefited by it.

It is local taxation and the distribution of the funds derived therefrom that comes home directly to the county and city taxpayer, for it must be met and is felt in proportion to the ability to meet it. Therefore, it is the right of the citizen to demand of his county court the lowest per cent. of tax each year consistent with an economic, honest and impartial government, and to have this tax promptly collected, and honestly and fairly applied to the good of the entire county.

The good people of my native city and county have honored me time and again by electing me to different and important offices. My election for four successive terms to the office which I am soon to voluntarily surrender, while evidencing the partiality and most generous favor of my personal as well as political following, is an earnest of my faithful, impartial and successful discharge of duty in the past, and must be my guarantee for the future.

I have in no sense sought this office, and if I am elected by it I must be elected by the uncorrupted vote of the people, as I will not bring to bear any corrupting influences to obtain it. At the proper time I will visit the precincts of the county.

Respectfully,

W. H. SNEED.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant, No. 100 State Street, advised me to take a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate so cold that others at the hotel where he had been staying would call him off a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly.
